Girl Does Not Propose That Prospective Bridegroom Shall Make Escape. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Fayetteville, N. C., August 13.—Joseph Lassiter, a mill operative, is waiting to-night in the Cumberland County Jail for the written consent of the parents of Minnie Lucas, sixteen years old, of Duke, to warry her. Miss Lucas and Lassiter have been working in the Victory Cotton Mill here. The girl claims that Lassiter has promised to marry her and she suddenly became apprehensive to-day that he was trying to break his promise. She got in communication with the police and informed them of her fears. The police sot into action with ise. She got in communication with the police and informed them of her fears. The police got into action, with the result that the young man was arrested at the Atlantic Coast Line passenger station. He was taken to police headquarters, witnesses were summoned and Desk Sergeant T. J. Powers, who is a justice of the peace, was preparing to perform the ceremony, when it was discovered that the girl was but sixteen years of age and could not be married without the consent of her parents. An epistic was dispatched to the parents, who reside at Duke, in Harnett County, outlining the situation and pending their consent Lassiter was sent to jail for safekeeping. Lassiter formerly lived in Wilmington.
